

Success and failures...

It's hard.

It's almost impossible.

Or impossible to find a princess who wears glasses, and has a mustache and buck teeth.

It's hard.

It's almost impossible.

Or it's impossible to find an orthodontist without failure or shortcomings.

Not having failure is like wanting to dominate the sunlight...

Clouds may temporarily stop in front of the sun, but it will never cease to shine.

Failure passes through our homes, offices, etc, but the successes will never cease to shine

Because I, you (we) have studied and worked in order to have a happy life.

It's hard.

It's almost impossible.

Or impossible to find a princess who has a beard.

But success and failure live on the same branch of the same tree.

For our growth we have to live and see obstacles and failures not as obstacles or failures, but as part of the whole human being.

To be human is to be capable of error, failure....and to have success.

The failure happens when...

The shortcomings happen...

Randomly?

Why do we go wrong?

We go wrong because ...We live, because we do things.

We go wrong ...because we don't see small (or large) details.

We do not see because ...We don't know how to see the big (or small) details.

We make mistakes unknowingly, unintentionally, unconsciously...

Because we think our way is correct, because we're ignorant.

Who is responsible for successes...or failures...?

Our teachers, our friends, our parents...?

Each one, within his free will [mentally] has to reflect, to think over ...

Think about it!
